

2009 Joe Cheves Junior Invitational @ Mimosa Hills

Morganton, N.C. Final Scores Sept. 12-13, 2009

After finishing fourth in 2007, third in 2008, Kaitlyn Rohrback of Crofton, Md. finally made it to the top of the leader board at the Joe Cheves Junior Invitational. Rohrback, a Univ. of Tennessee commitment, shot 71-74=145 to take a one-shot victory over high school freshman McKenzie Talbert of North Augusta, S.C. (71-75=146). Sarah Almond, a Univ. of Georgia commitment from Albemarle, N.C., took third with 75-72=147..

North Carolina Junior Champion Andrew Knox, of Cary, N.C., fired a career-low, jaw-dropping 63 in the final round of the seventh annual Joe Cheves Junior to capture a six-shot victory. After opening with an even-par 72, and finding himself three shots back of the lead, Knox went 31-32 over his final 18 holes. His round included seven birdies, seven pars, two eagles, and two bogies. Knox is committed to play collegiately at UNC-Greensboro next season. High school freshman Adam Ball of Richmond, Va. took runnerup honors with 69-72=141. Ball is the Virginia Junior Champion.
